

SOLDIERS' CAMP IN WACO IDEAL

General Boardman Writes He Is Pleased With Southern Cantonment

Gen. Charles R. Boardman has written Maj. Charles Green that the Waco cantonment, where Wisconsin and Michigan troops will train, is an ideal camp. Gen. Boardman writes also that Maj. Gen. James Parker, commander of the division, is eager for the arrival of the Badger state troops so that they can be organized and get down to real work.

The camp is on level and fairly high ground, he says. Buildings are described as large and well ventilated, telephone facilities excellent and street car service convenient. The big cantonment is electric lighted and is modern in every way.

The weather will continue pleasant, with the evenings cool, for another six weeks, he understands, but after that the weather will be uncertain.

In his letter Gen. Boardman gives Maj. Green a pen sketch of the camp. Mail from the soldiers in Waco to the guardsmen here speak enthusiastically of the new quarters in the south and of the hospitality of Texas people. The men write that they were received in a most friendly way and that Waco is entertaining them royally.

While everything is done to make life pleasant here, the soldiers are anxious to be on the move. They realize, however, that training in Waco will be more strenuous than it has been in Wisconsin. There will be added hours of work, but the soldiers are keen to tackle the job because they know the program will include lessons in modern warfare. Little advanced warfare has been taken up here, and the soldiers feel they know all there is to know concerning the first lessons in soldiering. They want to try their hand at something bigger.

So far as troop movements are concerned Camp Douglas is at a standstill. The camp resembles a household all packed up and waiting for the moving van, but the van does not seem to come. It is believed, however, that the first week in September will mark the departure of some units and others will follow in a few days.—Fred C. Sheasby in Milwaukee Sentinel.

MORGAN TO SELL NEW ELGIN SIX

The Elgin 6, one of the leading popular priced cars on the market is now being sold in Rhinelander by the Morgan Garage and Supply Company. The company has just been granted the agency for upper Wisconsin and expects to put out a large number of these cars through the territory within the coming year. A demonstration car was brought here by Gordon Morgan from Milwaukee a few days ago.

Those who have seen the Elgin are very favorably impressed with it and the price $985 is most attractive. For this money there is no better car sold.

DID NOT MEAN TO BREAK LAW

Dr. E. G. Kohlsdorf of Milwaukee, who was arrested at Pelican Lake Saturday on the charge of making an illegal shipment of fish, was released upon payment of costs by Judge C. F. Smith. Dr. Kohlsdorf was accused of shipping more than ten pounds of fish, but he informed the court that the fish had been caught within several days time. Although the law states plainly that not more than ten pounds of fish can be shipped at one time, no matter when they were caught, the court decided that the defendant had no intention of breaking the law and dismissed the case.

37 POUND MUSKY

Albert Sutton of this city is a fisherman extraordinary. When it comes to landing the big ones he finds it no trick at all. A few days back he took from the Wisconsin river, near the dam, a muskellunge that touched the 37 pound mark. It was one of the largest and most perfect specimens of the musky tribe ever seen in this city.

For a time the fish was on display at the Hotel Oneida where it drew as much attention as Barnum's side show, especially among the members of the traveling fraternity.

INCREASE WAGES OF CITY WORKERS

Street And Water Works Men Are Granted Raise By Council

Street laborers in the employ of the city were granted another increase in pay of 25 cents per day by the city council at the September meeting Tuesday night. Men employed in the water works department were also given a $10 per month increase. A motion to raise the pay of the firemen and police men will be acted on at the October meeting of the council. The ever increasing cost of living makes it necessary that city employees receive more money.

E. A. Forbes' report of certain lots on Dahl street met with the approval of the council.

The board of public works was authorized by the council to improve the western end of Davenport street, which is in very poor shape. Repairs to the Boom Lake bridge were also ordered. The stone crusher which has not been in use for some time was ordered put in condition for service.

Lots 15 and 16 in the West Park addition will be purchased by the city and the council instructed the committee in charge to arrange to close the deal.

The council acted upon the usual monthly batch of bills.

$156 TO SEND SOLDIER TO FRANCE

It will cost approximately $156.30 to equip the infantryman for service in France. This cost is divided as follows:

Clothing, etc., $101.21; eating utensils, etc., $7.73; fighting equipment, $47.36; total $156.30.

Items included under "clothing" are as follows:

1 bedstead, 98c; 3 wool blankets, $1.75; 1 waist belt, 25c; 2 pairs wool breeches, $3.00; 2 wool service coats, $15.20; 1 hat cord, 8c; 3 pairs summer drawers, $1.50; 3 pairs winter drawers, $4.88; 1 pair wool gloves, 61c; 1 service hat, $1.70; 2 pairs extra shoe laces, 5c; 1 pair canvas leggings, $1.05; 2 flannel shirts, $7.28; 2 pair shoes, $10.20; 5 pairs wool stockings, $1.50; 4 identification tags, 2c; 3 summer undershirts, $1.50; 4 winter undershirts, $4.88; 1 overcoat, $14.92; 5 shelter tent pins, 20c; 1 shelter tent pole, 26c; 1 poncho, $3.66; 1 shelter tent, $29.55. Total, $101.21.

Items included under "eating utensils" are: Food issued to each man to be carried in his haversack during field service, canteen and canteen cover, cap, knife, fork, spoon, meal can, haversack, pack carrier, first aid kit, and pouch to carry it.

The items under "fighting" equipment follow: 1 rifle, $19.50; 1 bayonet, $2.15; 1 bayonet scabbard, $1.13; 1 cartridge belt, $4.08; 100 cartridges, $5.00; 1 steel helmet, $3.00; 1 gas mask, $12.00; 1 trench tool, 50c. Total, $47.36.

Prices are subject to frequent changes, so can not be taken as absolutely accurate in every case. Steel helmets and gas masks are being bought in France and England as well as manufactured in this country and the cost of those bought abroad and made here differs. The figure given for a rifle is the cost of making the United States Rifle, generally known as the Springfield. The first 600,000 to 800,000 troops to go to France will carry this weapon. The so-called Enfield rifle used by British troops, is being manufactured to equip other American troops and is officially known as the United States Rifle, model 1917.

ROBBERS ENTER MONICO SALOON

Early Saturday morning about one hundred and fifty dollars worth of merchandise was stolen from the saloon of James Murphy in Monico. The plunder represented the prizes on a punch board and included several articles of value. Those who are responsible for the robbery entered the building through a window.

Sheriff Hans Rodd was in Monico Saturday investigating the robbery. He placed seven suspects under arrest but all were able to prove that they had not been connected with the crime and were released. Who ever pulled off the job was evidently not suffering from thirst as no wet goods were taken.

OLD SCREEN DOOR FACTORY SITE FOR POTATO PLANT

After remaining unoccupied for fifteen years the old factory site of the Wabash Screen Door company, on the south side, is again to be the location of an industrial plant. H. G. Gore, chemist in the agricultural department of the United States government, while in Rhinelander this week chose this site, out of several prospective locations, as the one most suitable for the new government potato experiment plant to be established here. This site is the property of the Rhinelander Advancement Association, and it is understood that it will be given to the new company to be formed here to operate the plant.

Mr. Gore, who is in supervision of the removal of the industry from Arlington, Va., to this city, has drawn up a contract, which will be signed by members of the new company, as soon as it has been approved by the government.

Following the acceptance of the contract steps will be immediately taken toward the organization of the company to conduct the industry. It will be an entirely local concern and will be capitalized at $25,000. The main factory building according to plans, will be constructed of brick, 150x50 feet, and two stories. Additions will be made as business increases demand.

The new plant will place upon the market potato by-products for food and other purposes and will be the only one of its kind in the United States. In this respect the industry will be a most effective advertisement for Rhinelander. The output of the plant will be shipped to all parts of the world. Among the by-products will be potato flakes, potato flour, potato stock food, starch and musilage powder.

On account of inclement weather Wednesday's program at the Oneida County Fair was postponed until today. Those who visited the Fair Wednesday were given back their admission tickets and these will be honored at the gate this afternoon. The weather is ideal and it is the opinion of the officials that an enormous crowd will be in attendance. Friday will be the final day of the fair.

This, the twenty-second Oneida County Fair, is regarded as one of the most successful in the history of the association. Strangers who visited the fair Wednesday expressed surprise at the splendid array of exhibits in every department and readily admitted that many of the southern Wisconsin counties could not make a better showing. Each year the fair improves in quality and quantity and this year's display would be difficult to beat anywhere.

The displays of grains, grasses, potatoes, and root vegetables are of the best. The live stock and poultry shows are very good. Sheds and pens are filled with some of the finest breeds of cattle, hogs, sheep and horses one could wish to see. This department would indicate that Oneida County farmers are going in for stock raising on a more extensive scale than is generally imagined.

The free attractions and horse racing at the fair will provide several hours of pleasing entertainment. Without a good amusement program no fair would be complete and in this respect Oneida's fair is never lacking.

BAND GOING TO STATE FAIR

At the Wisconsin State Fair in Milwaukee next week the Rhinelander City Band will be one of the chief musical attractions.

Director E. K. Rick says that the band, comprising twenty-six members, will leave Rhinelander Tuesday night for Milwaukee. Tuesday afternoon the band will parade through the principal streets of this city and in the evening will give a grand concert.

The appearance of the band in Milwaukee will mean a big advertisement for Rhinelander. Only the best bands in the state are engaged for the state fair.

LABOR DAY HERE WELL OBSERVED

Unions Hold An Excellent Program In The City Park

Rhinelander industrial unions observed Labor Day with one of the most successful celebrations of the kind ever held in this city. Good weather was a strong factor in contributing to the satisfactory conclusion of the day's program.

At 9:30 o'clock there marched through the main business streets one of the largest processions of workmen seen here in some time. Every labor organization in this city was represented in the line-up. The Rhinelander City Band headed the parade, followed by Mayor Grant V. Clark and other citizens in autos. Albert Schultz was marshal of the day and, riding a spirited horse, guided the parade to the city park where the celebration took place.

HOUSE BUILDING IN RHINELANDER

Considerable Activity Here In The Erection Of New Dwellings

Everybody in Rhinelander knows that the city is ready for a period of expansion and growth, the postmaster reports that 300 houses, out of perhaps 1200 here, have two or more families in a house.

Instances come to our notice every week of some family being fairly put out onto the street, when their lease expired, by reason of some one else hiring the house from over their heads, at a higher rent, or else someone buying it outright.

How a city is going to grow with out some one building houses is beyond our ken. Some effort has been made by the Advancement Association to get up a house building campaign, but they are mighty feeble efforts, and have not accomplished anything. We are very much pleased to state however that some private parties have been levitating the situation. C. P. Crosby moved to do what they can, to all, and Joseph Weisman bought a small piece of land on West River street and have now completed and sold five pretty cottages that would be a credit to any locality, and they have been put up at exceedingly low prices. These homes sold faster than they could be completed and the company is now starting three more, and will get the foundations ready for another three, that can be put up later in the fall or winter.

The influence of these building operations on River street have roused the interest of others, some of whom are building, and others are repairing, painting up, or putting in cellar walls. It is predicted that River street will be one of the better localities of the city, and being so favorably located, looking out on the river, the name of the street should be changed to Riverside Drive. We commend this name to the council at its next meeting.

BLOW OUT DAM ON EAGLE RIVER

Under instructions from the state conservation commission, Game Warden Smith, of Marinette county, this week blew out a dam on the Eagle river in the western section of Marinette county.

The Eagle is no longer a logging stream and the dam served no purpose. As a result of the stoppage of the water the latter became stagnant for several miles up and down stream and brook trout perished in it because of this reason.

It took five men two days to complete the work and two hundred pounds of dynamite were used. The dam was effectually removed and the stream has assumed its former bed. Several sporting clubs were interested in the work and will replace a bridge below the dam which was carried away when the dam went out.—Merrill Herald.

HERE'S CHANCE TO HELP GOOD CAUSE

Here's an opportunity for you to do your bit toward aiding a worthy cause. Contribute what you feel able to spare to the fund organized by E. A. Forbes to be expended for comforts for Rhinelander's soldier boys, who are not members of Company L. These comprise Co. L members, who were transferred to the new Superior company, and members of the hospital corps.

Mr. Forbes starts off the fund with $25. Contributions no matter how small will be welcomed. If you have fifty cents or a dollar that is not working put it into this fund.

INDIAN FAIR AT FLAMBEAU

The third annual Indian fair will be held in Lac du Flambeau Friday and Saturday. Exhibitions of agricultural products, Indian manufacture, stock, art work, cooking, etc., will be made, and the program will include sporting events and music by the Flambeau Indian band.

The fair will be under the auspices of the Lac du Flambeau school and agency of the United States Indian service.

Supt. James W. Halmer reports that the Indian farmers have increased their acreage this year a third over that of last year to help feed America and the allies and win the war.

CARNIVAL FAILS FOR FAIR DATE

Cancels Contract At Last Minute Owing To Strict State Laws

The Zeidman-Poille Carnival Company, which was engaged by the Oneida County Agricultural Society to provide the midway at the county fair, failed to appear. This was no fault of the fair officials.

At the last minute the management of the carnival notified Secretary Arthur Taylor, that owing to the strict Wisconsin laws governing carnivals, it was decided advisable to keep out of this state, making it necessary to cancel the Rhinelander date. The company is exhibiting this week in Ludington, Mich.

Secretary Taylor contracted with the Zeidman-Poille carnival for the fair week engagement two months ago and acted in good faith when he advertised the attraction. Had the company notified him earlier of their decision to cancel the stand Mr. Taylor would have endeavored to secure another carnival for the fair. As it was all the big carnivals were dated up and the situation here could not be changed.

HUNT WATERFOWL ON SEPTEMBER 7

The season for hunting migratory waterfowl in Wisconsin opens September 7. The federal law and the Wisconsin law both provide a daily open season from one-half hour before sunrise until sundown.

The law provides a daily bag limit of fifteen wild ducks, including American coot or mudhen. In other words, ducks and the American coot are all classed as ducks, and fifteen of either variety, or combined constitute a bag limit. A mixed daily bag limit of twenty birds combining any two or more of the varieties of ducks (including the American coot or mudhen) will goose, brant, plover, snipe, rail, rice hen, may be taken in one day. It is unlawful for any person to have in possession more than the daily bag limit of any one variety. Wild goose and brant, the daily bag limit is ten birds.

Plover, snipe, rail, rice hen, the daily bag limit for each variety is fifteen birds, or a mixed daily bag limit of twenty birds. The possession of more than the daily bag limit of any one variety is unlawful.

McELRONE-JARVIS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McElrone are home from their honeymoon spent at Tomahawk Lake and Antigo and are busy receiving the congratulations of their many friends.

Mr. McElrone's bride was Miss Louise Jarvis of this city. They were united in marriage Monday morning of last week by Rev. Fr. W. A. Beaudette at St. Mary's church. Miss Helen McElrone, the groom's sister was bridesmaid and Lloyd Dolan acted as groomsmen. In the evening a dinner and reception were given for the young couple at the residence of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McElrone near Lake Julia.

The New North joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. McElrone a long and happy journey through life together.

FIRST ARREST UNDER NEW LAW

What is believed to have been the first arrest under the new state law, which prohibits guiding with out a license, occurred at Tomahawk Lake Tuesday when Warden E. M. Weaver arrested Al Wenzel on this charge.

In Judge Smith's court Wenzel pleaded guilty and was fined $50. In view of the fact that he had no previous knowledge regarding the new law, the court saw fit to remit the fine on the presumption that no violation has been intended.

FISHERMAN ARRESTED

R. B. Glaubitz of Wittenberg was arraigned in Municipal court Wednesday on a charge of catching under size pike. He pleaded not guilty and his case was continued.

MINOCQUA

(Minocqua Times)

LENOX

The annual event, the Barbecue, Saturday, was a grand success. The day was perfect and the attendance by tourists splendid. At 11:00 the parade headed by the Minocqua Drum Corps marched to Kawagaesaga Park, followed by the Indian dances and a multitude on foot and in automobiles. At 12:30 the Barbecue consisting of roasted ox, green corn, cucumber salad, bread and coffee was dealt out to the crowd. Immediately afterwards Col. N. H. Lathier addressed the people, touching on the present and future of Minocqua. The Colonel offered some excellent suggestions and his remarks were well directed and splendidly received. After the speech the afternoon was given over to a ball game, Indian dance, foot racing, pony racing and a general good time.

The ball game was won by the Indians by a score of 7 to 1. The pony race was the most exciting event of the day and enjoyed by all as all ponies were ridden by Indians. The dance of the Indians was well attended and as usual a great source of entertainment to tourists.

The Indian Band gave fine selections which were greatly appreciated by the visitors, and special credit is due Joe Shadamo, the baritone. The attendance was splendid especially by summer visitors. It was the grandest event ever held in town and will long be remembered.

Wm. Bern, who was injured some time ago while in the employment of Mayo's camp at Boulder Junction died at the Ashland hospital. An effort is being made to locate relatives of the deceased.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

NEW CHANGES IN CHILD LABOR LAW

Children Under 17 Cannot Now Be Employed In State Without Permit

Changes in the child labor laws of Wisconsin which went into effect at midnight Sept. 1, will affect several Rhinelander employers of labor. Anyone failing to comply with the changed rulings is liable to the penalty of the law.

The most important change is the change of the age under which a child must have a labor permit in order to be lawfully employed. This age was formerly 16 years but now is raised to 17 years.

The provision permitting the employment of children under 16 years of age 5½ hours a day on condition that such children be free from labor after 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, is stricken from the law. After Sept. 1, 1917, children under 16 may be employed not more than 8 hours a day and 48 hours a week. They must not be employed before 7 o'clock in the morning nor after 6 o'clock in the evening, nor more than six days in a week.

Children between 14 and 16 must attend vocational school 8 hours a week, in the daytime in cities where such schools are maintained and this time must be taken out of the 8 hours a day and 48 hours a week that such children may be employed, leaving 40 hours a week only that the child may be actually engaged in work during the weeks that he must attend school.

Children between 16 and 17 must attend vocational school, in the daytime, 4 hours a week and the employer must reduce their hours of work by that number. After Sept. 1, 1918, children between 16 and 17 must attend vocational school 8 hours a week.

An amendment to the compensation law provides that if a minor employee is injured while employed without a labor permit, or while engaged in prohibited employment, he shall be entitled to three times the amount of compensation otherwise recoverable. The employer is made responsible for the payment of the compensation in such cases—the insurance carrier paying only in case judgment cannot be satisfied by the employer. Compensation in cases of this kind, where the minor sustains total permanent disability, may run as high as $20,000, or even more.

CANT SUE SOLDIER

Attorney General Owen has advised Adjutant General Holway that under the new law passed at the last session of the legislature, men enlisted in the United States Military service are exempted from civil process for a period of three years, or during the term of their service, if less than three years.

The adjutant general received letters from a number of men in the federal military service enlisted from Wisconsin, that creditors have threatened to levy on their real and personal property to secure payment of debts owed by the enlisted men. The attorney general advised that no civil action can be brought against the Wisconsin men in the military service during the three year period or the service period prescribed in the new law.

One soldier wrote saying that he had bought a home under a land contract, and is unable to meet payments in full and the man of whom he purchased the property threatened to take the property away from him in accordance with the terms of the contract.

Another soldier wrote saying that he had given a mortgage on some real estate that he owned and was unable to make the payments stipulated in the contract and that the party owning the mortgage threatened to foreclose and have the land sold for the payment of the mortgage.

The attorney general said that such civil actions could not be maintained against Wisconsin men in the military service.

TROUT TIME ENDS

Rhinelander trout fishermen laid aside their paraphernalia Friday, the season, during which the law permits the catching of the speckled beauties having expired on that day. Not many trout were taken from Oneida county streams this year as the season was poor for this kind of fishing, due largely to weather conditions.

NEWSY NOTES OF NEARBY TOWNS

New London—As a result of mistaking toad stools for mushrooms, two boys of a Hungarian family named Mendular are in their graves and a mother and daughter narrowly escaped the same fate is a story that comes from Sugar Bush, north of this city. An examination of the prepared food revealed the fact that instead of eating mushrooms, toad stools had been eaten. A large quantity of the prepared food was found with other food stuffs that were in the building. The fact that no member of the family could speak English, and the almost crazed condition of the mother is given as a reason for a delay in obtaining medical aid.

Washburn—Claiming that the acid fumes from the plant of DuPont company at Barksdale blow across his farm and that as a result he and his family are suffering the loss of their health and that the growth of crops on the farm are retarded, Jacob Bjork, a farmer residing near the plant, has started action in the Federal court against the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Company for $7500 damages. Bjork contends that the sulphuric and nitric acid fumes from the plant blow across his farm at times and resemble dense smoke doing wholesale damage to almost every living thing. His legal description of his troubles resembles in ways the articles written on the gas attacks on the firing lines in France.

MOTOR HERE FROM WEST Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Converse, former residents of Rhinelander, are in Eagle River the guests of their daughter, Mrs. A. W. Thorpe. The Review states that Mr. and Mrs. Converse left home in May traveling by auto and stopping at various places to visit friends. They report a delightful trip, one of the pleasant features being that they carried a tent and camp equipment along and were at home wherever night found them.

WILSON FIXES PAPER PRICE

In an order which newspaper publishers declare will serve as an important precedent, President Wilson has fixed a price of 2 1/2 cents for news print paper for use in publishing the government's daily official Bulletin.

The order fixing the price was issued by Secretary Baker at the president's direction, under the national defense act, which empowers the government to commande-er needed supplies for war purposes. It was directed to the International Paper company, which has declined to furnish news print the Bulletin at less than 3 cents per pound.

Newspaper publishers who voiced the order voiced the opinion that it might open the way for cheaper news print to publishers generally. They called attention to statements by the president that the administration's war policy will be at 2 1/2 cents.

The profits of the paper mills are nearly doubled since this order began. It is high time that no step was taken to hold these corporations within the limits of the law and give the ordinary consumer a chance for life. The New North has been paying $6.00 per hundred for print paper the last year, whereas the prevailing price used to be about $2.25 per hundred. In England the government is now taking 80% of the war profits, but the majority of the senators at Washington are afraid that they will hurt the business concerns, although they did not worry about conscription of the lives of the poor boy.

DER DUCHESS APPLES NOW

Nisconsin Duchess apples are coming on the market. It is estimated that one hundred cards of this fruit will be ready shipment within the next week
ten days.

The State Council of Defense has made arrangements to ship these apples anywhere within the state in bulk car load lots. The fruit is all sound and in size not smaller than one and one-half inches diameter. Cars can be placed at virtually any city in Wisconsin at cost of sixty to sixty-five cents per bushel.

The Duchess is an excellent cooking apple. It can be used for pie, candy, butter, and canning.
The season is short. Send in your order now to the State Council of Defense.

FIRST ROAD SHOW IN MANY MOONS

"The Million Dollar Doll" was greeted by a good sized audience at the Majestic theater Tuesday night.
This was a sparkling musical comedy and gave general satisfaction.
The girls were pretty, the songs were catchy and the jokes were new and clever. It was the first road company to appear here in many months and it was like old times to see the foot lights ablaze again.

Manager H. C. Zander of the Majestic is arranging for several good theatrical attractions at his house during the fall and winter.

BOWLING ALLEYS OPEN SATURDAY

Next Saturday will mark the opening for the season of the Lawrence bowling alleys on Stevens street. The work of installing a third alley and making other improvements is about completed and the place will be in fine shape for the opening date.

Mr. Lawrence has one of the finest equipped bowling alleys in northern Wisconsin. Everything is of the latest type and of the best material and workmanship.

MILLINERY DEPARTMENT

One of the feature departments of the new Hart & Gerber store will be that of millinery. This department will be in charge of Mrs.
D. H. Hart and she has engaged the services of Miss Downer, an expert trimmer who has had experience in large millinery establishments of Milwaukee and Chicago. For the last six weeks she has been in New York City acquainting herself with the latest fall and winter fashions in ladies' headwear.

Mrs. Hart states that it will be her aim to keep her department stocked with the best and most up-to-date millinery at reasonable prices. She will keep abreast of the ever changing styles and will be able to give patrons new creations almost as soon as they appear in the east. She will make a specialty of trimming hats free of charge.

LINCOLN PICTURE GIFT OF SMITH

At the special meeting of the Oneida county board this week, Ira Smith, chairman, presented the county with a large beautiful picture of Abraham Lincoln which will be placed in the front of the county board room in the court house.

The Oneida county board completed the business brought before the special meeting of that body and adjourned this forenoon after a day's session. Consideration of bills occupied most of the time. Supervisor John Mentink introduced a resolution, which was passed, inviting the Taxpayers' Association to accompany the county board on a trip of inspection of county roads.

Hopeless.
When a girl says, "I know you think I'm frightfully unconventional," and you say, "No, I think you're very conventional," she gets peevish. And if you say, "Yes, I do think you're frightfully unconventional," she gets peevish.
And if you say it hasn't occurred to you to notice whether she's conventional or unconventional she gets peevish.—New York Sun.

ens street.

Rheume & Pecor will adopt the cash and carry system and will sell meats at exceptionally low prices. That they will

TEACHERS

There is a scarcity of teachers in northern Wisconsin. The state has raised the requirements for the teacher's certificate but it has also raised the salary so those qualified can afford to teach. Oneida County Training School offers excellent opportunity for preparation as a teacher. The course is free.
Books are furnished. Plenty opportunity to work for board while attending school. Address Prin. M. V.
Boyce for further information.

GIVE ME THE BOUQUETS NOW

(By Edward Irving Hubbard)

I notice when a fellow dies, no matter what he's been—A saintly chap or one whose life was deeply steeped in sin—His friends forget the bitter words they spoke last yesterday, And find for him a multitude of pretty things to say.

I fancy when I go to rest, some one will bring to light Some kindly word or noble deed, long buried out of sight; But if it's all the same to you, just give me now, instead, The bouquets while I'm living and the knocking when I'm dead.

Don't save your kisses to imprint upon my marble brow; While countless maledictions are hurled upon me now; Just say one kindly word to me while I mourn here alone, And don't save all your eulogies to carve upon a stone.

What do I care if when I'm dead, the Times, the Sun, the Gazette Give me a "write-up" with a cut in mourning border set; It will not flatter me a bit, no matter what is said, So kindly throw the bouquets now and knock me when I'm dead.

It may be fine when one is dead to have the folks talk so; To have the flowers come in loads from friends that I may know, It may be nice to have these things from those you leave behind, But, just so far as I'm concerned, I really do not mind.

I'm quite alive and well today, and while I linger here, Lend me a helping hand at times, give me a word of cheer; Just change the game a little bit, wipe off your dusky specs— I'll be no judge of flowers when I've "cashed in all my checks."

PARKER REPLIES TO TAXPAYERS' ASSOCIATION

To the Tax Payers of Oneida County, Wisconsin:

In reply to a communication signed by the Oneida County Tax Payers' Association, by A. W. Brown, President, will say, that the County Board, at their annual meeting, ordered one thousand (1,000) copies of my Annual Report published, which were distributed over the entire county, and any one wishing to see where and how the money was expended can receive one of these copies by applying at this office.

The condensed report is as follows:

Total Amount received from State, County, Towns, Automobile Fund and Private donations.....	$76060.72
To amount paid for town bridges wherein the towns paid the entire amount.....	7892.00
To amount expended for machinery.....	1767.70
To amount expended for maintaining about 100 miles of road.....	3745.33
Seven county bridges.....	5893.41
Paid on contract accounted for in 1915 at Minocqua.....	1962.81
Paid on contract accounted for in 1915 at Woodruff.....	298.18
Paid by town of Minocqua for macadam on street.....	1843.05
Paid for macadamizing 1/2 mile of road at Minocqua.....	1644.43
Paid for graveling 4 1/2 miles of road in county.....	4597.56
Paid in town of Woodboro for reggrading 1912 and 1913 work.....	926.36
Paid for grading, clearing, grubbing, culverts, guard rail fence and side ditches on 27.78 miles of road.....	43477.33
Cost of right of way in Hazelhurst.....	15.00
Grading 60 rods town road to connect with state road.....	38.15
Cost of right of way in Pelican.....	100.00
Cost of right of way in Sugar Camp.....	175.00
Reggrading and drain ditches on 1915 work in Three Lakes.....	367.65
Reggrading 1915 work on Hiles road.....	108.50
Filling bridge ends on 1915 Work in Three Lakes.....	236.21
Balance on hand.....	911.49

You will see by this that the actual cost of grading, clearing, grubbing, guard rail fence and side ditches of 1916 work was $1565.05 per mile instead of $2400.00 as reported by this 'Tax Payers' Association. The discrepancy between the figure that I gave you and the figures that the State Highway Commission gives you is caused by their considering the cost of purchasing right of way as part of construction, which I do not consider as such, and if you will look over the report closely, you will find that some of these 'Tax Payers' received some of this money for building a road through their land.

Now the construction of roads in Oneida County in 1915 was dictated and audited by the following: Twenty-six members of the County Board and Committee; seven or eight contractors; twenty-five different foremen; five engineers; the State Highway Commission; the St. Louis Auditing and Bond Company, and it does not seem possible that all of these people are in league to rob the Taxpayers of Oneida County, and that the only honest people are the members of this Tax Payers' Association.

The gentleman who signed this article has taken part in the dictation of the policy of Oneida County since its organization, through the County Board, which decided at each annual meeting how much taxes should be levied to each of the towns, until the year 1914 when he did not return to the County Board. But being so interested he and others immediately organized this Association, and commenced to dictate to every town Chairman how he should run his business, and you can see how much they have the taxpayers at heart. Their attorney informed the town of Sugar Camp that if they did not cut the assessment on a large tract of land owned in part by a member of this Association they would start action. You see they do not care what the farmers in that town pay, but you must not tax one of the selected few, and when this Road Board refused to comply with their request, they immediately aired their feeling through an article in the paper.

If you will go into the past history, you will note that Oneida County did build, at one time, a road between Rhinelander and Three Lakes which was paid for by Oneida County, and I don't believe there was ever a load of goods hauled over same, excepting in winter time, as it was almost impassable for a team with an empty wagon. Also it constructed a road from Rhinelander to Enterprise, but the contractor failed to pay his bills, and Oneida County instead of making the bondsmen settle for same, paid them out of the taxpayers' money.

Do you still want your money spent in that way?

Some of the members of this same Association were opposed to macadamizing the streets of Rhinelander. They were opposed to the building of a new court house except the Attorney for the Association who drew nearly $100.00 as secretary of the building committee in spite of the fact that he was being paid a yearly salary for his services as District Attorney. They were not opposed to the building of a high school on top of a sand hill, where a teacher is not able to stand the trips up and down more than a year, and it will cost more to grade the hill down, and put it in shape, than it will to buy a level block in the city of Rhinelander. Why? Because some of these people sold part of the land. They were not opposed to the New Normal School site, for the reason that they sold part of the land, but condemn the County Board for buying a section of land for a County Home while land was reasonable, and purchased same for about $10.00 an acre, but while A. W. Brown was a member of the Board, it purchased a site of twenty acres at $25.00 per acre, and after spending thousands of dollars trying to make it into shape to erect a building and make a race track it was abandoned and made into a County Poor Farm, and it was a poor farm indeed, as it was necessary to buy an additional tract to get ground for a garden.

This is apart of the record of the County Board proceedings on May 5th, 1891:

A. W. Brown was appointed on a committee to expend $2500.00 for agricultural purposes.

In March 1892 this committee allowed G. H. Clark $3548.25 for labor and material for Agricultural society.

Resolutions were adopted by A. W. Brown, June 30th, that the Chairman and Clerk be instructed to pay bills for labor and material to complete fair grounds.

On July 25th, resolution that G. H. Clark be instructed to expend not to exceed $1800.00 before the next meeting of the Board, which adjourned to August 15th.

Do you think this Board could spend money like that, and what did you get for it? Twenty acres cleared.

Now, if this Taxpayers' Association would spend as much time in trying to equalize the taxes in Oneida county, so that each and every Tax Payer would pay his just proportion of taxes, the ordinary tax payer's taxes would be so low that they would immediately want to double their appropriation for roads.

But instead, if you will look into the tax roll of the private holdings and corporations controlled by this Association, you will note that if their property was assessed in proportion to you, Mr. Tax Payer, things would look different. But it is a most wonderful thing that all of this property depreciates in value, in spite of the fact that stock sells readily at four to one of the original cost.

And the cry is don't assess us high for we furnish labor to a lot of people. Don't this road work furnish labor to a great many people?

Now, Mr. Tax Payer, this is only a few of the things that I could cite to you, and it is about time that you organize a Tax Payers' Association that will be truly representative and which will spend as much effort to see that every one is equally assessed as it does to run the affairs of the people who have exercised their rights in electing their own representatives and need little assistance from men who, I honestly believe, represent only the wealthy class of the county

Yours truly,
Frank E. Parker.

PRATISE ONEIDA ROADS
Judge and Mrs. L. E. McGill returned Wednesday from an auto trip to Eagle River and vicinity. They report a very pleasant trip, and warmly praise the roads of Oneida county, ranking them above those of our own county, which indicates that they are certainly some roads.

While it isn't pleasant to contemplate another county beating us in the road matter, it is consoling to know that it is an older county, also an Upper Wisconsin county. Just wait until we are as old as Oneida, and we will make her roads look like burro trails by comparison.—Rusk, County Journal took place, heard the girl's cries for help and rushed to her assistance. Dickson fled but a posse caught him shortly afterward.

GOING UP

The horrible news comes from Arkansas that a boy climbed a corn stalk to see how the corn was getting along and now the stalk is growing faster than the boy can climb down. The boy is plumb out of sight. Three men have undertaken to cut down the stalk with axes and save the boy from starvation. It grows so fast they can't hack twice in the same place. The poor boy is living on nothing but raw corn and has already thrown down four bushels of cobs. Next!—Ex.

Gerard's Exposure

The Whole Amazing Story of German Ambition, Treachery & Intrigue Laid Bare

It is former Ambassador Gerard's own story of Germany at war—and her plans against America—the first recital of what actually happened there before the United States entered the Conflict. Right up until the time war was declared Mr. Gerard was at court, where he learned of plots and intrigues, and he will tell all to a spell-bound America.

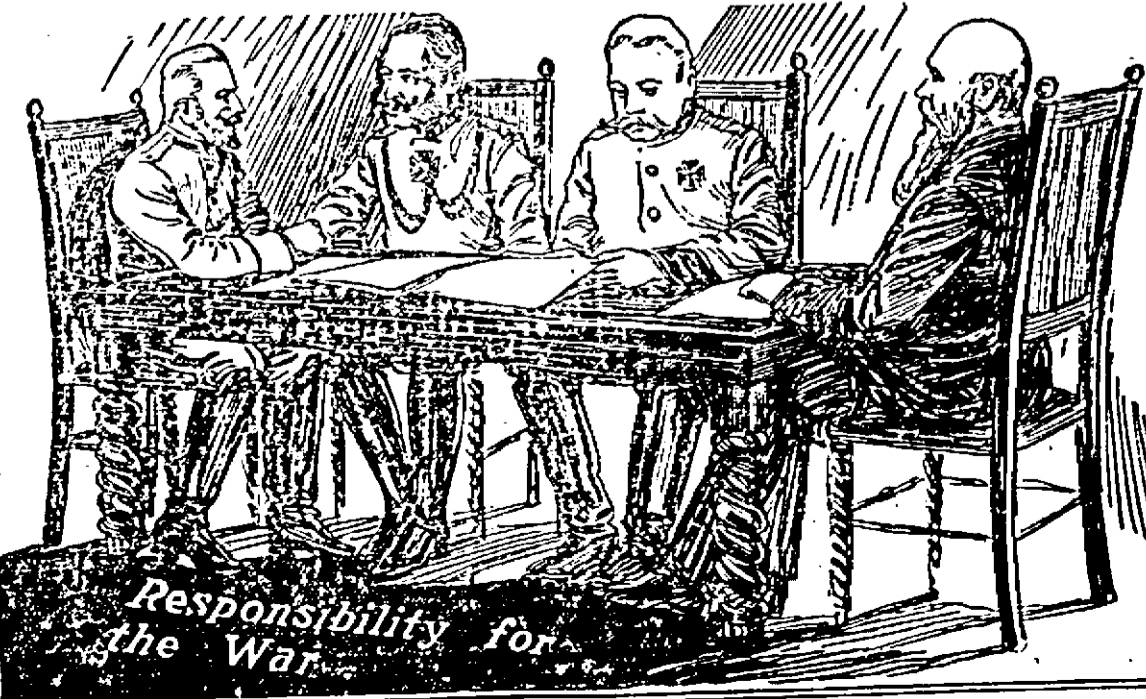

It exposes the unscrupulous intrigue of the Prussian cliques—intrigue that has aimed to enmesh America. It is replete with startling incidents—humorous, dramatic, tragic—and moves with the quick action of a play.

"My Four Years in Germany" Starts Sunday, September 16, in THE MILWAUKEE JOURNAL

"My Four Years in Germany" conveys to the American people a thorough understanding of conditions that so far they have only suspected. It is not a book of propaganda. Mr. Gerard does not seek to persuade nor to argue—he simply states the facts, many of them facts hitherto sealed in secret archives—and leaves Americans draw their own conclusions. No other item of news, no other series of articles, since the war began, can approach this great series in its absorbing interest, its sensational disclosures, its historical importance. It is written in Mr. Gerard's own forceful, vigorous style, and runs full book length of about 80,000 words.

The Milwaukee Journal has contracted for and secured the exclusive rights for publication in Wisconsin of "My Four Years in Germany." It will be printed in generous installments, daily and Sunday, for about six weeks, beginning Sunday, September 16th. The first installment will contain in facsimile the suppressed telegrams of Kaiser William sent to President Wilson.

SOLDIER WRITES OF WACO TRIP

George Campbell, Of Three Lakes Sends Parents Fine
Descriptive Letter

George A. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Campbell of Three Lakes, writes his parents the following letter descriptive of the trip, from Camp Douglas to Waco, Tex. The young man is a member of Company H, 4th Wis. Infantry; Co. H, 4th Wis. Inf.

Camp MacArthur, Waco, Texas.

August 22, 1917

Dear Mother:— We left Camp Douglas, at 10:40 A. M. on Saturday, Aug. 18, 1917, on a special train of sixteen coaches, one baggage car for a cook car, and two box cars for baggage cars. The cooks in the cook car had to cook for three companies and a hospital corps. They were companies A and I, of the 2nd Wis. Inf. and Co. H, of the 4th Wis. Inf. There were about 600 men.

Two other troop trains were to leave on the same day.

From Camp Douglas we went to LaCrosse. On our way we passed through Tunnel City where we went through a tunnel for two or three minutes, under a large high hill. Then we went on through Sparta to LaCrosse, where we changed engines and crews and ate our dinners. We left LaCrosse and crossed the Mississippi river at Crescent. I am not sure whether Crescent, which is a little town, is in Minnesota or Iowa. We turned to the left there and followed the Mississippi river about North McGregor to Dubuque. All the way there are high sandstone bluffs on the right hand side and the river on the other side of the railroad.

The bluffs were much higher than those at Camp Douglas. The river was very muddy and full of small mud turtles. At Dubuque, we left the train and drilled or marched through the streets for about an hour for exercise. It was much needed after eight hours ride on the train. While we were drilling two of the boys who were on police detail, stayed in the train, that is, two from each company, and swept it, so that all dirt and waste of every kind was removed and we marched back into nice, clean, well aired coaches.

At every town we went through, there was a crowd at the depot.

We yelled and sang, "On Wisconsin" and laughed and talked. Many of the boys dropped cards to be picked up and mailed. We watched the people pick them up. Of course, they were mailed. We had supper in Dubuque, Iowa, and left there at 7:00 P. M. Dubuque is a city of about 41,000 people. We had no lights in our car that night so we all went to bed about dark. About 9 P. M. we rode into Clinton, Iowa. It is a city about as large, if not larger than Dubuque. It certainly was a great sight to see electric lights everywhere we looked. Clinton is on the Mississippi river. We changed engines and crews at Clinton. We left there about 9:30 P. M., crossed the big river, (the Mississippi) passing through Rock Island, Ill., and then crossing it again and going into the city of Davenport, Iowa, about midnight. Davenport is quite a large industrial city. Before we left Davenport I went to sleep. I woke about 5:00 A. M. Sunday, Aug. 19. We were still in Iowa. We soon crossed the state line and passed through the little town of Lucerne in northeastern Missouri. Along the railroad the land was slightly rolling and dotted with large, thrifty farms. There were many large fields of cotton. The next town was named New town, Mo. Near that place was a fine big farm. On the roof were painted the words, "World's Champion Hereford's."

Here and there I could see a piece of old-fashioned rail fence. We passed through two little towns named Osgood and Gault, both in Missouri, on the C. M. & St. P. railroad, which we followed from Camp Douglas all the way to Kansas City, Mo. At Gault, Mo., the land is rolling; good soil, and many prosperous farms with large fields of corn, covered with tassels and silks. The railroad through Iowa and Missouri runs down hill and our big engine sped along with its heavy load at the rate of from 30 to 35 miles per hour.

At 6:15 A. M. we stopped at Laredo, Mo., and changed engines and crews. About 7:30 A. M. we rode into the good sized town of Chillicothe, Mo., where we detrained for exercise. While marching through the streets we sang, "On Wisconsin" and gave many cheers for Wisconsin. We entrained again at 8:00 A. M. Sunday, was a fine clear day. There was a large crowd of people at the depot to see us off. There are many fine farms, and acre after acre of corn. Lots of grain in the shock. The soil there is black. There are few cattle and horses but quite a lot of mules. The timber here is willow, elm, poplar and oak. There are few mules here. Everywhere south of Dubuque, Iowa, one can hear the locust singings. Here and there outcroppings of light colored rock may be seen. It looks like limestone. About 9:20 A. M. we rode through Cowgill, Mo. Here and there are many fine farms; lots of corn; good roads and many automobiles. Around Elmira, Mo., the land is quite rough. We went up hill for quite a ways there. We stopped for water at Lawson, Mo. We passed through Moseby, Mo., about 10:30 A. M. Moseby is a little town about 41 miles southwest from Chicago.

NEWSY NOTES OF NEARBY TOWNS

Clintonville—

On Monday evening shortly after stopping work at the Four Wheel Auto Plant, August Rohloff was found dead between the main building and the new addition that is at present being built, having come in contact with a live wire. How the accident happened is unknown, as he was alone at the time. When found he was clutching the light bulb, which was broken, in one hand and the wire in the other, and his hands were cut and burned. It is thought that he stumbled, with the bulb in his hand, breaking the bulb, and receiving a shock, and immediately grabbed the wire with his other hand, and ground being wet, the result was that a circuit was formed and he received the full charge of 110 volts, which caused his death. Physicians were immediately summoned but when they arrived life was extinct, and they could do nothing.

Park Falls—

It was expected that the new high school building would be completed and ready for occupancy at the opening of this term but many unavoidable delays held up the work to such an extent that it will be several weeks yet before the main part of the building is all completed. However it is hoped that by the opening day a few of the rooms will be finished up and ready to take care of the smaller pupils. It is expected that the schools will be open this fall with larger attendance than ever and until the new building is all ready for occupancy the present accommodations will be taxed to the limit.

Ladysmith—

Rusk county is fast qualifying as the land of milk and honey. The milk part of the record is secure—now let us tell you something on the honey side. Geo. Moore & Sons last week made a shipment of honey totalling 8970 pounds, only a little short of five tons. This is the largest shipment of honey ever made from here, and a big shipment for any where.

LESTER MAKES 'EM LAFF

The Tripoli correspondent of the Prentice News-Calumet says: "The Great Lester", ventriloquist of Rhineland, showed here Wednesday and Thursday evenings. A good crowd was in attendance both evenings. All enjoyed a hearty laugh and all express the desire that Lester play a return date in the near future.

TAKEN TO WINNEBAGO

William Malone was taken to the Northern Hospital for the Insane at Winnebago Friday by an attendant from that institution. Malone was in the county jail here several days under observation.

around Birmingham, Mo., there are a few small hills. There are many large fields of corn. The corn is all tasseled out and there are lots of silk on the ears, but it does not appear to be as far advanced as it should be. A few miles this side of Birmingham we crossed the Missouri river on a bridge about half a mile long. Of course, the river itself is not more than seventy rods wide, but there is a good deal of low land on this side of it. The river is very muddy there. To the south of our bridge we could see two more large bridges, farther up the river. The river, where we crossed it, is right at the outskirts of Kansas City, Mo. Kansas City is 279 miles west from St. Louis. There are many big factories and grain elevators here. We saw Montgomery, Ward & Co's branch office here. Among some of the other big buildings here are: The Standard Oil Co's branch; the Overland Auto Co's branch; Firestone Tires branch.

Then there are many large concrete viaducts. The place where the railways come into the big union depot is walled on both sides with re-enforced concrete. I don't know how many different railroads run into the city; but part of them are (Continued next week) the Santa Fe, the Rock Island, the Kansas City Southern, and the C. M. & St. P. We left Kansas City about 2:00 P. M. We soon were going through level land dotted with many fine farms. There are many large fields of fine corn. The soil is a black loam. We had dinner about 4:00 P. M. Of course we didn't have any supper. In Missouri there are many dry creeks. The country is rolling with a high hill here and there. From Kansas City, we rode on the Kansas City Southern railroad to Texarkana, Ark.

says At Amsterdam, Mo., we were only one mile east of the Kansas state line. There were many corn and sugar cane fields there and some apple orchards. Near Amoret, Mo., we saw some coal mines. They were surface mines. It was Sunday afternoon when we passed through but most of them were working. There were many fine farms along the way on both sides of Amoret. As we passed through the little town of Statesbury, Mo., we saw a barn burning and about two minutes later we ran into a heavy shower of rain. Richards is in the southwestern corner of Missouri 33 miles from the Kansas line. It was near that place where we saw some trees with long green cucumbers growing on them. One man said, "Look at the cucumbers growing on that tree." Another replied, "No, they are bananas." Here we saw a few fields of sorghum. On our whole way we saw but three hoboes. Two were riding on freight trains and one was cooking supper in a tin can.

PREPAREDNESS LECTURE

THIS war is awakening men to the truth about a lot of things besides Preparedness—and chewing tobacco is one of them. Soldiers are strong for W-B Cut and the facts are right before you. These shreds are all tobacco, no gummy sweetening—rich tobacco—more sap in the leaf than in ordinary tobacco by a long shot. That's why it's so satisfying and so economical—a little bit goes a long way.

Made by WEYMAN-BZUTON COMPANY, 1107 Broadway, New York City

Health Of Workers
The chief surgeon of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad made the statement some time ago that "the brainiest and most far seeing employers are most active in health movements among their employees, and in the development of health departments as an important part of their great industrial organizations."

What he had to say about the railroad operative in the following sentence is doubtless just as true of any other man whose value rests upon a well trained and skillful mind and pair of hands. "The especially qualified and practically trained employee is the greatest asset of the modern railroad manager and it is realized that the greatest efficiency results from the best protection of the health and activity of the experienced employee."

These opinions from this man who, doubtless, holds the position he does because he holds such views as he does, are characteristic of the sort of thinking that is being done all over the country to day by big business men. I attended a meeting, not long ago, of men from all over the country who had gathered to talk of nothing but means of preventing industrial accidents and disease. And how they did talk. They sat balanced on the front edges of their chairs and were as eager and excited as a crowd at a baseball game with a tie score in the ninth inning. And there is reason for excitement. Some of these men have been keeping books on their losses due to sick and disabled workmen.

They have found that an absent employee interferes seriously with the smooth and profitable operation of the entire plant. And they have found that in some plants the numbers of such absences have been cut in two and a great saving effected by proper attention. It is a dollars and cents proposition rather than sentiment with them.

This would not be such a very important subject for the majority of readers of this column were it not for the fact that proportionately it costs a worker far more to be sick than it does his employer. The big thing for both to realize is that a large proportion of all sickness is easily preventable. And realizing that truth, it is a foolish and reckless man who will take needless chances on sickness and death.

SCANDINAVIAN NEWS

SUMMARY OF IMPORTANT HAPPENINGS IN FAR OFF NORTHLAND.

ITEMS FROM THE OLD HOME

Resume of the Most Important Events in Sweden, Norway and Denmark—Of Interest to the Scandinavians in America.

DENMARK.

The Copenhagen Telephone company has just installed its one hundred thousandth apparatus in the city. The celebration was a quiet affair. But the hello girls could tell that something unusual was up, for they were treated to a chocolate feast at the expense of the company. No. 100,000 was installed in the house of Expressman Volmer Rager, 41 Forhaabningsholms Alle. When he ordered the telephone he had no idea what his number would be. Now he has two good reasons for being happy: In the first place he got a "round number," and, what he values still more, he will be served free of charge for one year.

Germany is believed to be making preparations for the establishment in Denmark and Sweden of a large number of branches of well-known German factories and industrial firms, says Svenska Dagbladet. These plans, if carried out, would be detrimental to neutral trade, since the countries of the allies would be naturally suspicious of all neutral firms which might be serving German interests. The paper suggests a combination of industry and finance to offset this German influence.

The long drought has reduced the value of the crops to a terrible degree. For this reason it is said that a large part of the stock of the country must be butchered. In one week over 4,000 cows were taken to Copenhagen packing houses. The number would have been still larger if the capacity of the establishment had permitted it.

The department of the interior has established a central management for a systematic distribution of foodstuffs for man and beast. Substations are to be opened in different localities to see that the grain is threshed in due season and properly distributed.

FINLAND.

The situation in Finland is serious, as a result of the continued difficulty of forming a cabinet and persistence of socialists in their plan to renew sessions of the dissolved landtag. According to the evening newspapers, Premier Keresky instructed Governor Stakhovitch to prevent, at all costs, a reopening of the landtag; if necessary, to surround the building and compel the members to disburse.

SWEDEN.

The Stockholm city authorities have begun a campaign against rats by offering two and one-half cents for every carcass delivered. While it is hoped thus to reduce the rat plague considerably, the chief end is to secure an important addition to the stocks of fats available for the making of soaps and lubricants. The rat carcasses are treated in a "corpse utilization establishment" where, after the fat has been boiled out, what remains is converted into a poultry food. South Sweden has for some time been utilizing cadavers of various animals in this way. A considerable amount of fat is also secured by skimming large containers placed in the sewers leading from the hotels, restaurants and other places where there is an unavoidable waste of fat.

Even the coining of iron money failed to relieve the coin famine in Sweden. It is explained that the copper coins were shipped to Germany, so iron was introduced. But the business men are still hampered by a general lack of small change.

The laborers' and soldiers' committee of Petrograd, Russia, made arrangements for publishing an international bulletin in Stockholm. It is printed in English, German and French.

September first was the date fixed by the national government to take possession of all the wheat, rye, barley, oats, legumes, and sugar beets in sight at that date.

As early as the 15th of July about 100 families in Gafte reported to the authorities that they were unable to find rooms for rent for the coming winter.

The Swedish expedition which was to go to Spitzbergen for the purpose of mining coal could not leave because the English government did not permit the ship to get the oil needed for the engines.

Sweden has been permitted to import from Germany all the hallow needed for the crops of this year and the coming year.

The national government cleared 75,000 on the sale and exportation of 5,000 horses.

NORWAY.

A special commission of Norwegian civil engineers and inventors have examined various types of German bombs for the destruction of merchant ships, and unanimously declared them to be chemical intruders. The most interesting bomb, says the official report of the Norwegian police, are those which in every way resemble regular bunker coal. The bomb itself is made of paper-mache and partially filled with German newspapers, dated December, 1916. The coal bombs are constructed in such a way that they will explode when shovelled into boilers of a ship. Among scraps of paper an extremely powerful explosive, etryl, has been placed, as well as a couple of dynamite caps. Among the collection were also a great number of rectangular bombs. Every one of these bombs was inclosed in a linen bag with a strap, making it possible for agents to carry them hanging in their clothing. There were also some incendiary bombs in which the clock work had been substituted for a wooden plug. When these bombs were placed on board ship, the plug was taken out of the hole which, instead, was filled with an acid, penetrating the iron within a certain time, and thus causing an explosion. Four hundred and forty acid tubes were found by Norwegian police. Some of the acids were supposed to explode their destructive work within three hours, others within 195 hours. Five fountain pens, provided with electric batteries connected with a liquid acid and a lump of chloric acid of potassium were also among the collection. These pens constitute ideal incendiary apparatus. Other interesting features of the collection are 32 rolls of chewing tobacco and 32 cigarettes, remarkably hard in the center, as well as 31 red crayon pencils, marked Johann Faber. These articles contain pulverized carbonium pressed with paraffin wax. They would therefore, in a very efficient way, destroy the mechanism of machinery, if placed in its oil cup.

Considerable feeling has been aroused in Norway and among Norwegians in the United States by published statements that German submarines pass through Norwegian territorial waters. Dr. F. Nansen, head of the special Norwegian mission to the United States, denied the charge. "The charge is not true," he said. "I know of only two instances when German U-boats actually violated Norwegian neutrality. In one case the naval officer reported that a U-boat was at the 2-10 line. The German commander maintained he was outside the three-mile limit. English war vessels, also, have been inside, and such accidents may happen. There have not been more cases of German intrusion than British. In both cases the incidents were insignificant. The British admiral himself has stated that Norway keeps the most thorough watch possible over her territorial waters. There are a few cases where German U-boats have attempted to come into Norwegian waters, but they were all stopped. Norway has a regulation prohibiting any submarine from entering Norway's three-mile zone under any circumstances. That was one of the difficulties between us and Germany last year. We say our territorial limit is four miles, but for war purposes during the present war we abide by the three-mile zone observed by all other nations."

Gunnar Kram for some time has been thinking of making his door and window factory in Stakanger a truly co-operative concern. A short time ago three of his best employees were about to leave the shop and start business on their own account. This brought Kram's plan to a head. He told his men that they could have the factory for about $22,000, which is much less than the real value of the plant, on condition that they run it on the co-operative plan. In order that all might take part, the amount of the shares was put as low as $125. There are some that cannot even raise that amount. But they are taken in on condition that they pay the amount of a share in small installments, so that in the near future every employee will be a stockholder in the business. The three men that intended to leave at once took stock for $2,700 each. No single person is permitted to hold more than one-fourth of the entire stock.

Heavy and cold weather in July was unfavorable to the crops in the northern part of the country. No hay was cut before the 20th of July, and the crop was expected to be less than the average. Much potatoes and grain had been planted, but only the most favorable weather would insure a fair crop.

A sword from the early bronze age was recently found in an ancient grave in Klepp, near Stavanger. The curator of the Stavanger museum ascribes the sword to the twelfth or thirteenth century before Christ.

A Kindly Feeling.
"Fludub's utter lack of extravagance in other directions makes me wonder why he gives such exceedingly large tips to waiters."
"Simple enough. Fludub started in life as a waiter himself."

STORING POTATO CROP.

Examples of Above Ground Storage Used in Various Parts of the Country. (Prepared by United States Department of Agriculture.)

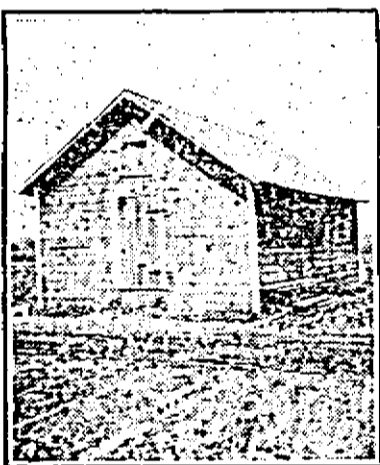

The insulated frame potato storage house is not used very extensively and as a rule is better adapted to southern than to northern climatic conditions. The construction feature of such a storage house is the thorough insulation of its walls, ceiling, doors and windows. The type of house described in farmers' bulletin 548 for the storage of sweet potatoes will serve equally well for the Irish potato, but in the case of the latter no artificial heat will be required. Facilities for heating storage houses of the type under discussion in the north at least must be provided for extremely cold weather. This is usually accomplished by means of an ordinary heating stove. This type of storage house is not to be recommended for northern locations, nor is it advocated for the south except where poor drainage conditions will not permit the use of the dugout or cellar style of house. It is not recommended because it cannot be so economically constructed, nor does it furnish as good a type of storage as the properly ventilated cellar storage house.

The Aroostook Type of Storage House.

The Aroostook type of storage house, with concrete or masonry basement walls and wooden superstructure, seems to be distinctly a product of Maine and so far as has been observed is not found to any extent outside of that state. It is an expensive constructed house and is almost always located on a hillside or knoll in order that advantage may be taken of a ground level entrance. Few, if any, of these storage houses have both front and rear end driveway entrances on the same ground level, but practically all of them have a rear ground level basement driveway and a front ground level entrance to the wooden superstructure. When the rear entrance is located in the end the basement is usually divided into a number of bins on either side of the driveway. The floor may or may not be of cement. Usually these storage houses that have a cement floor as well as those which do not are provided with false wooden floors to permit ventilation under the piles of tubers.

Basement Storage.

The basements of the Maine type of storage houses are usually from eight to twelve feet in depth, and most of them have a capacity of several thousand barrels. As a rule, the only provision for the ventilation of the basement is by means of trapdoors in the floor above, through which the filling of the bins is completed. Occasionally a ventilator is found in the roof. In storing the potato crop in the basement the bins are filled from one-half to two-thirds full from the basement floor, and, as already stated, the remainder of the bin is filled from the upper floor through a trapdoor over each bin. In addition to serving a useful purpose in filling the bins and protecting the potatoes from inclement weather, the wooden superstructure of these storage houses may be used for the housing of hay or grain or for barrels, sacks, farm implements and wagons. The house shown in Fig. 17 of the bulletin is representative and gives a fairly accurate conception of the style of construction of its exterior. That such houses have proved satisfactory to the potato grower in Maine is evident from the fact that practically no other style of potato storage house is in use in that state. It is not conceivable, however, that they will ever supersede the dugout pit or storage cellar now so extensively used in the middle and far western states, and it is not at all probable that the latter will ever supersede the Aroostook type in Maine. Both have distinctive features which peculiarly adapt them to their own environment, but do not necessarily preclude their use in other localities.

An insulated frame potato storage house used for storing second crop of potatoes at Merrill, Tex.

The Artificially Refrigerated Storage House.

The artificially refrigerated potato storage house is as yet hardly in existence. The present use of this type of storage house is confined practically to the holding of northern grown seed potatoes in cold storage for second crop planting in the south.

There is probably little demand for an artificially refrigerated potato storage house in the northern potato growing sections of the United States, but it is a debatable point whether community cold storage plants could not be profitably employed by the southern truck growers. At the present time practically all of the northern grown seed used by the southern grower is shipped to the south during the months of November, December and January, depending upon the locality to which it is consigned. As a rule, the seed stock is in transit from the north during dangerously cold weather, and it must be accompanied by a person charged with the responsibility of keeping it from freezing. Artificial heat is supplied to the car by means of stoves, and they often require more attention between stopping points than it is possible to give them, with the result that the car gets overheated or too cold, either of which conditions is undesirable for seed potatoes. If, on the other hand, the southern grower had suitable storage facilities he could purchase his supply of seed in the fall and have it delivered before cold weather sets in. It could then be placed in cold storage or in a well constructed house of the cellar pit style with a water tight roof provided with numerous ventilators for the free admission of air when the outside temperature permits. This practice would remove very materially the present objection of the trucker to purchasing their seed supply subject to fall delivery, because under good storage conditions the seed could be easily kept dormant until required for planting. Such a change would also enable the grower to buy his seed for less money than for midwinter delivery.

Potato storage house in Maine, showing a central driveway entrance into the lower or basement portion. The end entrance is more commonly used, especially in larger structures, than is the side entrance.

Temperature of Storage Rooms.

The temperature at which the storage rooms in which seed potatoes are usually held is maintained at from 32 degrees to 33 degrees F. It is believed, however, that 31 degrees to 33 degrees F. would be a more satisfactory temperature.

For the last three seasons the gravity brine system of refrigeration has been used in the potato storage room of the department of agriculture. With this system, in which ice and salt are used as a substitute for ammonia or carbon dioxide in cooling the brine, the maintenance of a constant temperature is entirely dependent upon the thoroughness with which the surrounding walls, ceiling and floor have been insulated and the attention given to refilling the coil tank and to observing that the brine in the circulating coils is actually circulating. The temperature can be raised or lowered by simply varying the proportions of ice and salt used in the tank. Temperature records covering a week's time have frequently been secured in which there was practically no variation during the whole period. With this system it has been possible to keep seed potatoes perfectly dormant until wanted for planting.

Tomatoes For Hogs.

On farms where there is an excess of tomatoes the surplus may be cooked and fed to hogs. The hogs would not eat the green tomatoes unless cooked. That which is not needed for immediate use is stored away in air tight barrels for future use. The top layer decays, but that beneath remains good.

The Milk Room.

The milk room must be used exclusively for the storage of milk. "No admittance except on business" should be placed at the door and every one and everything excluded that has no need of being there. This must be clean in every corner and well ventilated.

THE STOCKMAN.

You might as well try to carry water in a sieve as to try to make money with lousy hogs. As soon as the grain is harvested the sheep will clean up the waste grain and eat many weeds in the stubble if they are given a chance. It will pay to give the colts a small amount of grain once a day, although they are running with the mares in pasture. A cistern catching water from the barn roof furnishes a good supply of water for the sheep flock if the water is kept clean and cool. Dusty feeding floors or sleeping quarters cause the pigs to cough much of the time. The floors should be swept or flushed off with water every day. When draft mares are used for farm work the income from the sale of colts each year makes the cost of horse labor much less than when the work is done by geldings.

WISCONSIN BOYS PARADE IN WACO

Troops Pass In Review Before Maj. General Parker and Staff

Waco, Tex., Sept. 4.—On Friday Camp MacArthur here saw its first parade of its soldiers when 2,500 Wisconsin and Michigan troops passed in review before Maj. Gen. James Parker and staff.

All the Wisconsin officers from the lieutenants to Brig. Gen. Richards and Boardman, infantry, cavalry, artillery and other arms had been present the night before at the great banquet and military dance given by the people of Waco at a hotel to make known a welcome and to open the social season.

Just before the parade was disbanded the men were given close formation and Gen. Parker addressed them. His exact words should not be scattered broadcast but he in substance asked every man to work with him in getting every man ready in the briefest time and gave as his opinion that men will be needed abroad sooner than is now expected.

It is announced that each month the whole Thirty-second division will be reviewed, and that each week there will be battalion and regimental parades. Waco itself is today bidding farewell to seven different companies of its own men, sending two infantry companies, supply, signal, ambulance, cavalry and artillery. Besides these the record of the city and county is high for enlistments in the navy and army.

General Secretary Harkins of the Y. M. C. A. called to say that the Wisconsin officers here are taking the deepest interest in association plans for their men, and that the men already here are making constant use of all facilities. Therefore, Wisconsin people should send on their books and magazines and every newspaper publisher in the state should put Secretary Harkins' name on their exchange list so that the boys may have the news from home. The downtown building is a big one with swimming pool, bowling alleys, etc., and makes a convenient meeting place for all the men. All seven of the Y. M. C. A. buildings in the camp are in use. Adjoining each is a great moving picture space. In each building is a piano, victrola and a baby organ to lead the singing, magazines, games of all kinds with checkers, chess, dominoes the most popular. Three secretaries, a chief and five assistants for each building, are already hunting out talent for theatrical and musical lines, and there is some rivalry between Michigan and Wisconsin groups already. Each building also has a post office for the service of the men. The army secretary Y. M. C. A. is W. B. Van Akin who is in general charge of all these buildings and he too should be addressed by Wisconsin people who can spare reading matter for the soldiers.

The camp bakery is in charge of Capt. Harrison and more than 3,000 pounds of bread are made each day. After tomorrow 20,000 pounds a day are to be baked and that will mean just ten tons of flour a day. Last night Gen. Randolph A. Richards of the Second Wisconsin brigade, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth regiments, said for the people of Wisconsin to rest secure in the knowledge that the Wisconsin troops here are indeed fortunate in having been sent for training to Camp MacArthur. The general is a border veteran and says that the difference between the Rio Grande experiences and those now enjoyed at Waco are simply those of hardships and comfort.

He said that when the arrangements for soldiers are so perfect that there are electric lights in the bath rooms and in the tents, then there is nothing more to ask for. The perfect drinking water, the cool restful nights, the nearness to a city of perfect accommodations, mark Camp MacArthur as the best training camp in the entire country.

He called for Maj. Morfitt at the head of the surgical division of the medical corps and brought evidence of the real facts. It is almost too wonderful for belief but Maj. Morfitt stated that with 2,758 men here for weeks that his department had had two professional calls—one for a soldier's slightly infected finger and the other an extremely minor operation for an officer's wife—Bert B. Burr in Press Press.
